

During these potentially difficult and trying times as we all deal with COVID-19, many employees and business owners are working from home. This can mean using software that may be lacking in security, or feel clunky and not intuitive to use. Many available options may have considerable lag or use up valuable bandwidth both you and your family may want, while coping with 24/7 “family time”.

ACT Computer Solutions has rolled-out a quick and easy way for you and your employees to get connected and working from home. Our system will allow those working from home to easily connect to their work PC. The connection is secured by 256bit AES encryption and can allow access to one or more machines, all from one location. The setup process is simple to complete however just in case, we’ve also made some easy to follow videos to help with installation and access. All you need from home is a windows based computer and an internet browser like Google Chrome
